

Pace Charts 2024-2025

Updated 5/8/2024

Why does MNOHS have a pace chart?

The pace chart maps out how you can stay on track for success at MNOHS. Our school runs on a calendar of four quarters of eight weeks each, plus an eight-week summer session. The weekly calendar is paused for school holidays and breaks so some “course weeks” last longer than seven days on the calendar.

In Blackboard, our learning management system, MNOHS courses are organized into weekly folders. All courses have eight weekly folders and all are graded at the end of the quarter.

Your course schedule is made according to your graduation plan, so in the same quarter you may be taking:

- Part 1 of some courses
- Part 2 of some courses
- Some quarter-length courses without parts
- Two or more parts (block schedule or credit recovery) of the same course

The pace charts below will help you know what learning activities and assignments you must complete to stay on pace, depending on your course schedule and the date. Students who understand and follow the pace chart are successful MNOHS learners!

Pace Chart – Quarter 1 - 2024-2025

Remember, it is important to take the weekly folders and the assignments within each folder in order—unless your teacher advises you to skip assignments.

If you must miss school, please contact your teacher ASAP for help staying on pace.

If you are enrolled in two courses with the same name (for example Geometry A Part 1 and Geometry A Part 2), check with your teacher about what order you should do things in.

Graduation 2025 – Saturday, June 14

Understand the MNOHS pace chart, and you will understand how to succeed at MNOHS!

How do I know which courses I am enrolled in?

Check your schedule in Infinite Campus. Compare it with your Blackboard course list.

What is the start date of each course week?

Each course week begins on the date listed on the pace chart with folders unlocked by 8:00 a.m. During the school year, most course weeks start on a Monday and run through Sunday. When Monday is a federal holiday observed by MNOHS, the course week will start on Tuesday.

Note: Course weeks in Summer Session do not always follow the Monday – Sunday pattern.

What am I expected to do on the start date of each course week?

- Scan all the learning activities and assignments in the weekly folder to make sure you understand what's expected of you for the week.
- Check to see if your teacher has posted a Focus First list—this tells you which assignments to prioritize if your time is limited.
- Plan to work on each course about 5-8 hours per week—spread across several days, if possible. That way, you can use teacher feedback during the week to improve your understanding and your grade.
- Successful students ask questions! The weekly start date is a great time to email or text or meet with your teacher with questions about your assignments.

Important! Some, but not all MNOHS courses have class meetings. Most of the time there is a make-up option if the class meeting time doesn't work for your schedule. Please don't wait for the class meeting to get started on the weekly learning activities and assignments Blackboard! You can set your own daily or weekly schedule for the work in Blackboard, but you do need to get it done!

What is the end date of each course week?

The end date tells you where you need to be in the course to be on track for passing.

It is not a “due date”! Please submit each assignment in Blackboard as soon as you complete it so that your teacher can confirm that you are learning and can offer you extra help if needed. The sooner you submit your work, the sooner you can receive feedback from your teacher. Paying attention to your teacher's feedback will improve your learning and your grade.

What if I can't stay on pace?

Your teacher may have a late work policy or they may accept work any time before the end of the quarter. Please make sure you understand how late work is handled in each course. This is listed in the Getting Started folder of each course in the Essential Course Info Section.

Remember, MNOHS defines attendance as making progress in a course. If you don't understand an assignment, or if you know you are running late, please contact your teacher so they can actively support your progress.

If you are repeatedly late or have questions about how to get started, please talk to your teacher(s) and counselor about extra supports available to you as a MNOHS student. If you have an IEP, please check in with your IEP manager. If you have a 504 Plan, please contact your MNOHS counselor or MNOHS 504 Coordinator Amanda Seelen.

What is the length of each course week?

- At MNOHS, most course weeks have five instructional days—that is, days that your teacher is expected to be online. Once in a while, a course week will have four days or 6-7 days. This usually happens before or after a school break.
- During the school year, most course weeks start on Monday and run through the following weekend. This gives you the opportunity plan your work according to your schedule and to use the weekend if needed. Your teacher may be online on the weekend, but is not required to be. If Monday is a federal holiday observed by MNOHS, the course week will start on that Tuesday.
- Some course weeks contain a MNOHS holiday or break. These are noted on the pace charts and the MNOHS calendar. You can use holidays or breaks to complete and submit work, but your teacher is not required to be online.

Important: If you are attending another school which has a school break at a different time than MNOHS, please make sure that you are using the pace charts to stay on track in your MNOHS courses. Contact your teacher or counselor if you need to make any special arrangements.

What are the orientation and workshop days at the beginning of each quarter?

These are days where you log into Activities (Workshops and Resources) in Blackboard to complete learning activities that will help you to succeed in all your MNOHS courses. Day 1 is an orientation day, required only for students new to MNOHS during that quarter. Day 2 is a workshop day, for all MNOHS students.

What is the add/change deadline?

This is the last date each quarter that you can add a course to your schedule, or change a course in your schedule. To add or change a course, please contact your counselor by email.

What is the drop deadline?

This is the last date each quarter that you are able to remove one or more courses from your schedule without receiving a low grade (NC, or possibly P) on your transcript.

If you drop a class before the drop deadline, you will receive a W on your transcript, indicating that you have withdrawn. Colleges and employers often view W more positively than NC. It shows you made a thoughtful choice to drop rather than just stopped attending.
